

Young Researchers' and Education Committee. 09/11/2023

MENTORING SYMPOSIUM PROGRAM: Pathways in Science

Join us for an engaging symposium that will broaden your perspectives on different pathways within the realm of science. Explore interdisciplinary approaches, entrepreneurial journeys, and unconventional routes that have shaped successful careers in science. Connect with experienced mentors and fellow attendees during the coffee hour, and make the most of this invaluable networking experience.

For any inquiries or changes to the schedule, please visit the registration desk or contact our event staff. We look forward to your active participation!

10:00 – 10:05 AM. Opening Remarks

10:05 – 11:00 AM. Session 1: Navigating Diverse Pathways in Science

- Senior PI speaker: Maite Solas Zubiaurre. Profesora Titular. Dpto. Farmacología y Toxicología. Universidad de Navarra
- Junior PI speaker: Manuel Valero. Head of Neural computation laboratory .Institut Hospital del Mar d'Investigacions Mèdiques (IMIM)
- Editorial speaker: Alfredo Sansone. Editor NeuroImage (Elsevier)

11:00 – 12:00 AM. Session 2: Rotating Mentor-Mentee Tables + coffee

Experience personalized conversations with scientists and experts in your field. Engage in 1:1 discussion for 10 minutes, followed by a rotation to meet your next mentor or mentee partner. Please follow the schedule to make the most of this unique networking opportunity. This session is designed to foster meaningful connections and insightful discussions.

Mentors participating: David Bartolomé Martín, Raquel Abalo Delgado, Juliana Martins, Carlos Leon, Federico N. Soria, Rafael Rodriguez Puertas, Manolo Malmierca, Lola Ganfornina, Maite Solas Zubiaurre, Manuel Valero.